Chapter- Stone Soup

Summary:-

Once a selfish old woman who lived at the edge of a forest. A hungry man came to her door in search of food. The old woman had lots of food but she did not want to give it to him. So, she shook her head towards the hungry man and shut the door.

The man knew that the old woman was lying as he could see lots of delicious food in her kitchen from where he was standing. The shelves were full of fresh fruits and vegetables like strawberries, apples, grapes, berries, carrots and tomatoes. The old woman was very curious about the stone soup made by the man. The old woman gave the man a pot of water for which he had preciously asked from her.

The man brew a small fire in her garden and dropped a stone in the water.

The stone soup contained the following ingredients:-

- (1). A loaf of bread to make the taste of soup better.
- (2). A chopped onion that thickened the soup nicely.
- (3). Vegetables were added like- beans, carrots and potatoes.
- (4). In the end some salt and pepper was added to the soup along with some chicken.

The soup was made and ready to be served to eat. The old woman was so hungry that she couldn't control her hunger and ran to her house while setting the dinner table with her best plates and bowls. Also she had cut two slices of cherry tart for dessert and placed them in a plate on the table, the man was invited to her house. The old woman shouted in joy after a spoonful of the soup, "Stone soup is the best meal".
